HLRC.COM

April 21 2010

Dear Daniel,

This week we are featuring a small but very scarce offering of 5 and 10 dollar liberties. While the double eagles have risen quite a bit in price over the last several years, we believe better date 5 and 10 liberties have room to grow. We have consistently made a market in these coins, mostly the tens, and have placed many great coins over the last 5-7 years. We will be stepping up our efforts to market more of these great coins and while we are looking to sell them to you and perhaps get you to start or complete a set with us, we also want to buy these coins.

We are currently interested in any better date 5 and 10 liberties and are very interested in the higher end of the grading spectrum for each date. We currently have several want lists for the really tough coins and so those would always be in strong demand at HLRC. Other issues of particular interest would be coins with super low mintages, under 1000, under 5000, and under 25000 are all coins we would love to get first shot at if you have them for sale. Additionally we are really interested in branch mint issues from Charlotte and Dahlonega as well as any of the CC mint issues.

Coins with original surfaces and no problems are going to be more interesting than coins that have been cleaned or have other defects.

Please contact us right away if you are interested in any of these offerings or have coins to sell. We pay for every deal by overnight check and we allow you to use our overnight account to ship to us for FREE.

We are easy to deal with, give us a try!

Thanks,

Harry Laibstain

As many of you are aware by now, PCGS has a new product called PCGS Secure. These coins are specially scanned and mapped to fingerprint them for positive ID and grade for future references. When sent in on this tier, PCGS will consider giving the coin a plus grade if they feel it falls into the top 20% of its grade range.

If you have coins in PCGS secure holders, with or without the pluses we are interested in purchasing these coins. Please contact me directly

Through some trial and error we have discovered that listing keywords on our want list tool online can cause some emails to be excluded. Until we get this little bug worked out we suggest you do not use keywords along with your want list.

Presently, you can still place want lists either using the standard choosing mechanism or by using keywords separately. We will be updating lists already online and letting you know as soon as we re-tune this fabulously helpful tool.

If you have any questions or comments regarding the want list or other website issues please let Danny in our office know. He can be reached by email Danny@HLRC.com or by phone at 800-869-1869
