Great Collector Coins, New Purchases & a Mystery GSA-CC Dollar Deal

Dear Customer,

Well I'm not sure where you are, but here in the Mid-Atlantic the heat index soared over the weekend. We are fully in the summer season of heat, humidity, and bugs, that I love so much will surely follow. I'm told by many friends and customers that folks move to Florida so they can have this weather 9 months of the year. I have a hard time with that but to each his own. I've lived in this area all my life, so except for my many travels, it's all I really know in seasonal weather patterns. Luckily, my work allows me to dress casually. I can only imagine how those guys in suits and ties feel. My Steelers hat is off to you suit and tie guys!

This weeks newsletter focuses on our large selection of Choice and Scarce Collector Coins. We have spent the last 30 years networking and traveling the show circuit to develop the contacts and ability to purchase coins that rarely even show up on other lists. Additionally we have developed the knowledge to buy and sell these coins competitively. This is no easy task as price guides and other measures of value are often misleading. Many of these coins are virtually one of a kind in either their quality or scarcity; if a coin makes our list its Special! I'm estimating here, but for every 100 coins I buy, maybe 20 make the list. The images in the sidebar represent a sampling of the kind of coins we are widely known for having in our inventory. Look close and you will see some coins that are really tough and seldom offered.

After 30 years of trial & error and putting all my experience to work in the coin market, this is where I have landed. These are the coins I firmly believe are worth owning and will pay off in the long run. Many moons before CAC, PCGS Secure, and NGC Plus came along we were selling PQ coins. I might add without the aid of the premium services. Now don't get me wrong, I love these premium services. They have simply taken the bar higher and legitimized what we were doing all along. Additionally they have refocused the coin market right smack in the middle of what we do. Thank you CAC, PCGS and NGC for your vote of confidence in our decades old strategy.

The Show circuit has been and will continue to be very busy over the next few months. How many years have I said that right about now when everybody else is getting ready for summer. We have just returned from Long Beach where we had a better than expected show. The summer effort in Long Beach can be the slowest of the season and with Baltimore right around the corner, many East Coast dealers stayed home. Thank you East Coast Dealers, the rest of us were busy!

Tuesday, the day before dealer set up was quiet with the lot viewing room as empty as I've seen it on that day. By Wednesday, quite a few more of the usual suspects had shown up, but there was still a calm about the place that bespoke of a very slow show. The dealer setup on Wednesday was mildly busy and it looked like things were picking up. Gold had slipped a bit and generics were down, but activity was heavy and people wanted coins. On Thursday, I managed to get sidetracked in my room and arrived at the show just as the public was going in. They have an admission charge at Long Beach and the line was huge! How big was it? Huge I tell you! I was shocked, but pleased. Once inside, the room already had a buzz. That's the sound the room makes when you can't hear anybody talking, but you can hear EVERYBODY talking. 30 minutes later, when everyone got in, the Buzz had grown and collectors and dealers were all over the floor. Eureka, a busy coin show in Long Beach! Gold had started back up, and by Friday we had a positive close. Friends I'm here to tell you the coin market is as resilient as a sea turtle. Events that I think will unseat the demand for coins have been abated at every turn. Of course we have had soft markets, and many corrections, but for a market in collectibles that's not a mainstream investment form, the Coin Market is Big and Real. In addition to that, it is intensely interesting. I love it and I'll bet if your reading this you do too!

With the short time between shows we have not been able to properly process all of our new coins, but by the time you read this, the coins mentioned as coming soon should just have been uploaded. More will surely follow by the end of the week, but I leave for Baltimore shortly and it's doubtful everything will get posted. If you don't see it listed feel free to email me or call and talk to Joy or Shealyn to see if we have what you're seeking. Even better, we have an expert "Techie" on staff now who can help you place a want list on our website. We are still working a few bugs out of this mechanism but call or email Danny@HLRC.com and he can help get you setup.

The new website has been a boon to business and we have received a lot of positive feedback on our many unique features. Have you tried our slideshow? Have you perused our special categories? This project took a long time and we are just putting the finishing touches on it, but we are pleased with the outcome and hope you will be too. On that note if you see anything you don't like, are confused by, or doesn't work like you expect, please get in touch with Danny. His job is to make the website tiptop and he is very capable, but your feedback is helpful! Danny will be attending his first show next week in Baltimore so you will have the opportunity to meet him and ask questions there. He will be displaying the website on an iPad and can help you setup a Want List on site!

From time to time, we are going to be highlighting some special group offerings in these newsletters and the one we have this week is very interesting. These group offerings will likely be one of a kind as well, so if it piques your interest call right away.

Mystery GSA Dollar Deal

(Click to Enlarge)

We have recently acquired a very neat deal of sealed GSA-CC dollars from 1973. These coins were sent to a collector in Southern California directly from the GSA, and the boxes have never been opened. Additionally they are in virtually perfect condition, and each one has some markings to indicate what is inside.

We have an 1882-CC, 1883-CC, and an 1885-CC.

(we have included stock photos of the coins.)

This GSA sale in the 70`s was an historic event. Having the packaging intact is very rare, and though valuable in its own right, the possibility exists that a monster Gem lurks inside.

Groups like this are incredibly scarce and make a great addition to any dollar collection!
